4TH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON THE INTEGRATIVE
DISASTER RISK REDUCTION AND MANAGEMENT OF THE EASTERN SAMAR STATE UNIVERSITY

The Eastern Samar State University (ESSU), Main Campus, Borongan City will hold its 4th International Conference on Integrative Disaster Risk Reduction Management with the theme Managing our Future by Managing Disaster from September 4 to 6, 2017 at the ESSU Multi-Purpose Hall, Borongan City.

The Conference aims to bring together government and nongovernment officials, students and faculty researchers and other specialists from international humanitarian organizations to discuss and present papers related to various thematic areas. Specifically, the activity aims to:

1. help the participants develop and design products and processes which will predict and prepare the future toward natural and man-made disaster attack;
2. enable them to establish concrete linkages with local and foreign institutions in strengthening abilities and capacities in dealing all types of disasters; and
3. allow them to generate and extend information and solutions to high-risk and vulnerable communities, which are potential targets of disasters.

The target participants are researchers, faculty and graduate students from universities/colleges/institutions, and other interested parties from both public and private elementary and secondary schools.
