Girls' ability to care for themselves during menstruation significantly influences their overall health and development. In the Philippines, the lack of open discourse and comprehensive menstrual health and hygiene (MHH) education, along with limited coverage of sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) in schools, leaves girls vulnerable to misinformation. This hinders their access to accurate knowledge for managing their periods safely and confidently.

Oky is the world's first-period tracker app, co-designed for adolescent girls to make learning about menstrual health fun. As a digital companion, Oky empowers girls to confidently manage their periods with evidence-based insights and personalized cycle tracking. In the Philippines, Oky underwent a comprehensive process of localization through consultations with 473 girls and boys aged 10-19 years old from different geographical and social backgrounds, including indigenous communities, out-of-school children and youths, and children with disabilities. Collaborating with various agencies and technical experts ensured that Oky effectively meets the needs of these groups.

The Oky Philippines app, supported by the Australian Government, is a joint product of the Department of Education (DepEd), Department of Health (DOH), Commission on Population and Development (POPCOM), National Youth Commission (NYC), Regional government of the Bangsamoro Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao

The app was launched at the national level on May 26, 2023, following a regional-level launch in BARMM on March 16, 2023.

Cognizant of the social and digital realities of adolescent girls and young women, Oky Philippines is designed with the following key features:

- a) Period tracking functionality;

- c) Engaging and girl-centered gamified content, such as quizzes, mood tracking, a diary, and surveys;
- d) Personalized avatar for guided navigation;
- e) Inclusivity through the Text to Speech feature for girls and young women with disabilities;
- f) The local database of Adolescent-friendly Health Service Providers and
- g) Accessible both online and offline; shareable via Share it and APK file.

In this regard, the Office of the Undersecretary for Operations (OUOPS), through the Bureau of Learner Support Services-School Health Division (BLSS-SHD), endorses to all DepEd Offices and Schools to download the Oky Period Tracker App for adolescent learners, Grades 4 to Senior High School or ages 10 to 19 years old, as an additional information resource on menstruation, adolescent sexual reproductive health, child protection and mental health, among other learning areas. Audio-visual presentations introducing the Oky Philippines app and showing steps for downloading will be disseminated through DepEd Philippines social media platforms for all schools to promote the app to students during homeroom, relevant classes, or school events where the topic of menstruation can be discussed.

An online orientation session on menstrual health and hygiene and promoting the Oky Philippines app will be conducted for the following personnel of all regional and schools division offices:

- a. Adolescent Reproductive Health (ARH) focal persons
- b. WASH in Schools (WinS) coordinators
- c. Education Program Supervisors (EPS) for MAPEH/CSE
