|---|--|--|--|
| Enhancing Program Coordinators' Knowledge on Comprehensive Sexuality Education | Rosene D. Olaiivar & Filomena C. Tanggaan | Capacity building is essential to implement programs successfully. It provides workers with information and abilities similar to those found in Comprehensive Sexuality Education (CSE). In this regard, this study aims to determine whether program coordinators' knowledge of CSE would be improved by capacity building per DepEd Order No. 031, s. 2018. In specific, it targets to develop a shared understanding of the fundamental ideas and topics covered in CSE to ensure that CSE coordinators in schools can effectively implement CSE and share their knowledge with others. Purposive sampling has been used to choose twenty-four coordinators of the CSE program from the Division of City Schools in Tagbilaran City. Data was then gathered using Google Form. | The findings showed that the participants' knowledge of CSE had improved because of the capacity building. This suggests that the intervention has improved the participants' abilities to start programs and other activities. To further emphasize the value of CSE to students, it is advised that program coordinators receive ongoing training. Learning Action Cell (LAC) conduct is to be maximized. Additionally, program coordinators, with the support of the school heads, must initiate programs and projects regarding CSE implementation. There will be frequent oversight of these programs. |
